BAD MAN ON WOLF CREEK.

He Howls Only with His Gun and Has Already Laid Three Men Low.

INEZ, Ky., July 5 .- Wallace Deskins was shot and killed Sunday at Nolan, W. Va., by Andrew Farmer during a drunken row. The assassin was pursued by a posse and was overtaken and surrounded Monday night, but he fired on his pursuers and fatally wounded George Deskins and a man named Thompson. In the confusion he made his escape, but the posse continued the pursuit and he is now surrounded by a mob that threatens to lynch him. He will undoubtedly be caught, and unless the sheriff consents to surrender him blood will flow freely. He is on Wolf creek in this county. A skirmish took place to-day and many shots were exchanged.

Arrest of an Ohio Embezzler, DENVER, July 5 .- George W. Stage, excity clerk of Painesville, O., who is alleged to have absconded from that city with $10 .-000 of the city's funds, was arrested here to-day. Stage took his arrest very coolly. and voluntarily confessed his embezzlement.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 5 .- The regular yearly meeting of the Gettysburg Battlefield Association was held here yesterday. The two important questions before the directors were the turning over of the association's property to the United States government and the consideration of its duty toward the trolley electric railroad. On the latter point the association was a unit, and determined to use every power it possesses to save the field from the mjury threstened. Three additional avenues were ordered laid out south of the Emmitsburg road, with a view of developing the battlefield and facili-tating the work of the United States commissioners now here. General Sickels. being a member of Congress, resigned as chairman of the committee to devise measurers for the transfer of the field to the United States, and Edward McPherson was made his successor. On the committee General Slocum succeeds Gen. Henry A. Barnum, now dead. Active measures wil be immediately taken to introduce a bill at the approaching session of Congress for the transfer of the field, and all the Grand

> Dollars from Outsiders Pouring Into the Coffers of Chicago Merchants and the World's Fair at the Rate of a Million a Day

Visitors Expected to Spend Nearly $200,-000,000 Before the Big Show Ends.

Sunday Closing Question and the Wheel Chair Extortion Considered by the National Commission-Day for Indiana Editors.

WHAT VISITORS MAY SPEND. Chicago Expects to Be Two Hundred Mil-Hons Richer Before Nov. 1.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CHICAGO, July 5.-Chicago is beginning to realize in a practical way the investment in the world's fair. It is thought that in the period of the next 120 days of the exposition a sum ranging from $120,000,000 to $150,000,000 will be brought to Chicago and left here. The estimate is based on the assumption that between July 1 and Nov. 1-128 days-the average number of visitors in Chicago above normal will be 100,000 to 125,000, and that they will spend not less than $10 a day each while sojourning here. On that basis the amount spent daily will be over $1,000,000, and the tota amount from the opening to the closing of the fair not less than $200,000,000. The city is already experiencing the relief that follows the receipt of liberal sums of money from all quarters. Merchants report an immense trade, notwithstanding the great show at Jackson Park. The business streets are crowded with moving armies of men, women and children, and the great emporiums of trade are doing the largest business in their history. The finances of the world's fair are also improving. They would show still greater improvement, however, if the railroads would reduce rates. This may be done to-day, for unless all signs fail the meeting of the Western Passenger Association will end in the establishment of a one-fare rate for the round trip to Chicago during the world's fair. The proposition to establish such rates will be made to the meeting, and if that or its equivalent is not done, two of the roads equivalent is not done, two of the roads will threaten to withdraw from the association. Matters may reach this stage, but will not be likely to go any further. None of the Western roads are doing any great amount of business, and several of them which have spent large amounts for extra equipment are beginning to worry over the failure of the people to crowd the trains. The result is almost sure to be a reduction of rates. The Michigan and Indiana world's fair boards, being representatives of near-by States, have taken the ground that the earlier they can get their editors to the fair the better it will be for an increased attendance from their respective States. Michigar has, therefore, set the day for the visit of the Michigan Press Association for next Tuesday. There will be between three hundred and four hundred editors present from the Wolverine State, and a number of them will bring their families along to see the fair. The Michigan State Building will be their headquarters on the fair ground, and a formal reception will be tendered them there. Indiana press day has been fixed for July 24. Commissioner Havens is in communication with the oldest press associations in Indiana in regard to the details of the Hoosier editors' visit. Indiana has a Republican Press Association, a Democratic Press Association, and one that is older than either of the former and which is non-partisan. The latter is the association that will have charge of the details of the editorial excursion to the fair from the Hoosier State. The Republican Press Association also has a date at the fair—July 25—but on the preceding day the Hoosiers will be neither Republicans nor Democrats, but loyal Indianians. The editors will be given a reception as soon as they arrive, and will then be escorted around the fair grounds.

The Columbus caravels are expected to arrive on Friday and arrangements for their reception at the exposition are nearly complete. Captain Berry, of the revenue cutter Michigan, leaves the Van Burenstreet dock Friday, at 8 o'clock, for Evanston, where he will meet the caravels and escort them to Chicago. Captain Berry's flotilla will be composed of the Michigan. steamer Blake and revenue cutter Andrew Johnson. About twenty private yechts owned in Chicago and those now visiting the port and a large number of other vessels and excursion steamers will form the fleet. The fleet will proceed in column until the caravels are met and saluted, when they will turn and escort them to Jackson Park. At the park the caravels will be saluted again. Upon casting anchor off the long pier the caravels will be visited by officers of the director-general's staff, who will escort Captain Conchas and officers to the Administration Building. The guard of honor will be drawn up on the north terrace of the Agricultural Building. The line of march will be from the north front of the Agricultural Building around the peristyle to the south end of Manufactures Building, across the lagoon, then northward along the east side of Electricity Building and, turning at its northern corner, the procession will move down by the Electricity and Mines Building to a stand which will be erected at the terminal station, where there will be a short cere-

Vice President Stevenson spent an enjoyable day at the fair as the guest of National Commissioner Hundley, of Alabama. Director-general Davis tendered his private launch to Mr. Hundley for the day. and, about 10:30 o'clock, a party composed of Vice President and Mrs. Stevenson, Commissioner and Mrs. Hundley, Governor and Mrs. Prince and Mrs. Albright of New Mexico, Mrs. Bruce Douglas and Mrs. J. W. Thomas of Nashville, Tenn., and Hon. B. M. Ailen of Birmingham, Ala., embarked from Electricity Building. The party went about the lagoons and cruised out upon the lake to the battle ship Illinois. Here an informal reception was tendered the Vice President by the officers in charge of the vessel and a salute of twenty-one guns was fired in his honor. After the party returned to the grounds they were enter-tained at luncheon by the Vice President at the "clam bake" on the lake shore. Matthew J. Swatck, one of the stockholders in the World's Fair Captive Balloon Company, filed a bill in the Circuit Court, to-day, asking that a receiver for the company be appointed. Judge Collins appointed C. R. Matson to take charge of the company's affairs. The complainant claims to hold twenty-five shares of the stock, valued at $50 each. The capital stock of the company is $50,000, divided into one thousand shares, which, it is claimed, is being dissipated by mismanagement. The captive balloon has been making ascensious on the grounds since the world's fair opened. A pulley is used to draw it to the earth by means of a rope after it has attained a height of several hundred feet.

The Quackuihl Indians, from the island of Vancouver, B. C., and the Penobscot Indians from Maine, camped in their tepees on the lawn surrounding the south pond.

were supplemented to-day by the arrival of the first party of Six Nation Indians from the reservations in the State of New York. Ten of them came in charge of Director Osborne, of the Indian exhibit, and J. H. Maston, assistant director. The first to arrive was Solomon O'Bail a grandson of Cornplanter, who treated with Gen.
Washington and received a medal from the first President. .*.

Ivan Levitte and Legar Rabinovitz, representing the Russian Silversmith Company, of Moscow, who had charge of an exhibit in the Manufactures Building at the world's fair, were arrested to-day, charged with selling exhibits on which no duty had been paid. They admitted their offense and were held to the grand jury. The government will prosecute the men and all similar cases hereafter.

Two American republics dedicated their buildings at the world's fair to-day-Venezuela and Costa Rica. The foreign buildings are all now practically finished, and a few days will find the fair complete in its entirety. The paid admissions to the fair to-day were 79,224.

NATIONAL COMMISSION. It Wrestles with the Sunday Closing Question and Wheel Chair Prices. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CHICAGO, July 5.- The world's fair national commission resumed business this morning by holding a protracted secret session. As a Western member expressed 1t, "There was a good, big family row and it is nobody's business but our own." Director Davis was summoned to appear before the commission and explain the modus operandi of conducting his end of the exposition. The commissioners took a recess about 2 o'clock and at 3 again assembled to discuss the Sunday opening in public session. The first thing done was to reject the recommendation of Director-general Davis that the national committee on ceremonies be abolished. The commissioners adopted a resolution declaring that the rate of 75 cents an hour for a wheel chair and guide was exorbitant; that 60 cents should be the maximum with an attendant and pro rata without an attendant. The commissioners declared themselves opposed to the increase of prices at the fair on special days, the resolution passed being in favor of a uniform scale of prices on all days.

Commissioner St. Clair protested against the resolution of Commissioners Hundley and Tousley against Sunday opening. Massey, Hundley, Barbour and Ramsey spoke in favor of the resolution. President Palmer took a lively interest in the debate and vacated the chair in favor of Vice President Bullock, of Massachusetts. President Palmer advocated immediate action. After a protracted debate, in which law-yors, judges and other members of the commission participated, a resolution was adopted to take up the question of Sunday opening next Tuesday at noon. During the debate many members indulged in personal remarks, and were several times cautioned by the presiding officer.

In the Pinisance.

Christian Union. It was night on the Midway Plaisance at the entrance of the Turkish village. Leaning against the door frame was a beautiful Turkish mother. In her arms was a beautiful boy looking out in pleased surprise at the strange sight forced on his baby vision.

We must speak to the baby. He greeted his visitors with a bewitching smile, and leaned forward to touch a watch chain that attracted his eye. At a venture the mother was asked, "How old is the baby?" "Eight months," was the reply in very good English. "Where was he born?" "In Bethlehem," was the answer.

Somehow a strange feeling of reverence stole over us, and silently we left the glitter, the noise of that marvelons street. A baby from Bethlehem had changed its Five persons were burned to death. Five others escaped. One, Miss Roberts, is probably fatally hurt. The dead are: Mr. Babcock, wife and child, of Silverwood; Mr. Frost, of Fostoria, and a five-year-old

Mrs. Sturn and baby were thrown from the buggy and instantly killed and Mr. Sturn was so badly mangled that he will die. The horse feil

BRUTAL DOUBLE CRIME. Two Young Girls Criminally Assaulted and Mardered While Picking Berries.

LOUISVILLE, July 5. -- Near Bardwell, Ky., this morning, Rubie and Mary Ray, aged twelve and sixteen, respectively. daughters of John S. R. Ray, were criminally assaulted and then murdered by an unknown man. The two girls went to a thicket a short distance from the house to pick berries. In about half an hour a pet dog came running home. Mrs. Ray thought that something was wrong, and followed the dog back to the thicket, where she found the body of Mary. Her throat was cut from ear to ear. The horrified mother ran back to the house, as she saw nothing of Rubie, and gave the alarm. Her son hurried to the thicket, and, about fifty feet from where the first body was discovered, found the corpse of his younger eister. Her throat was cut from ear to ear. Both bodies were horribly mangled, plainly showing that the young girls had been outraged before being murdered. There is no definite clew to the identity of the brute who committed the crime, but the manner of the work points to one man, and the use of a razor indicates a negro. There is great excitement. Large posses are in the woods, and if the culprit is caught there will be a lynching. A Murderer Feigning Madness. COLUMBUS, O., July 5.-Frank Van Loon, the Columbus Grove bank robber and murderer, who is to be executed in the penitentiary here to-morrow night, has not eaten anything for two days and this morning, either in a fit of madness or playing crazy, broke his bedstead and threw it out of his ceil. He also pounded the wall with his list, spraining his band badly. He is a big man and powerful and active. Trouble of some kind is expected at the execution. Suletde of a Prussian Count.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 5.-Victor Lung-feldt, a Prussian of noble birth, killed himself at the Pacific Hotel last night by taking morphine. He had been drinking hard for several days. Despondency, ill health and financial distress caused the act. He has lived here twenty years and is known as "The Count."

TROUBLE IN HAWAIL

Arrest of Royalists for Conspiracy-Three & Against Blount and Spreckles.

Special to the Ladianapolis Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5 .- The steamer Belgie arrived to-day, bringing the following advices from Honelulu, dated June 25: "The government has finally executed what has been for some time in view-the arrest of the ascertained agents in the Royalists' dynamite conspiracy. On the afternoon of June 23 several arrests were made. E. C. Crick and Archibald Livelain were arrested on a charge of conspiracy to overturn the government. The offense is not bailable and the prisoners have been held in continement, pending examination. The government has had knowledge of this conspiracy for three months past. Every conservative policy has been pursued and no arrests were made until the evidence was entirely complete against the aconsed. The evidence was submitted to four legal advisers and pronounced sufficient. Meanwhile every precaution was taken against surprise, including the recent occupation of the palace. Of the arrested persons Walker is a son-in-law of the leading half-white royalist, John Cunnings, a mason by trade and a man of active nature, Sinclair is a highly skilled mason, but of irregular habits. Crick is out of employment. About twenty prominent whites and half castes are more or less implicated by the evidence in possession of the government. Nine of these persons have been Cabinet ministers.

More arrests are liable to be made at any time, but none without ample evidence to justify action. "The use of dynamite was the means of the scheme of the conspirators. Their plans seem to have been bold and extensive, but more on the anarchistic nature than of regular warfare. believed that no evidence implicates Paul Neumann or Claus Spreckels, although the conspirators had sanguine hopes of pecuniary aid from the latter. At the time of the arrests the houses of Walker and Cummings were searched. No discoveries of dynamite were made. Much consternation followed. A general demoralization has been caused among the Royalists, whose plot for the restoration of the Queen has now collapsed. At noon, just before the sailing of the Belgie, the evidence against the conspirators began to be presented. Commissioner Blount has stated that he has not yet sent forward any re-"On the 22nd Claus Spreckles found a placard on his gate bearing a skull and cross-bones, and this message: 'Gold and silver will not stop lead.' He was much excited, and immediately sent a note to Minister Blount demanding protection. Mr. Blount notified President Dole, who provided a guard for Spreckles's place.

"The citizens' reserve, which now number between six hundred and seven hundred men, all armed with Springfield ritles, and the Annexation Club, most of whose members belong to the reserve, play quite an important part in another plot. In the event of a royalist outbreak certain prominent supporters of the ex-Queen are marked for slaughter, A member of the citizens' reserve has given ont a list of names of these royalists who are to be killed at the first sign of trouble. It includes that of Claus Spreckels and Minister Blount. With all the talk of conspiracy and murder, there is hardly any possibility of trouble. A handful of white and hait-white agitators, who might be disposed to make trouble, realize that they could not stand before the well-disciplined. well-armed force of the provisional government. Therefore any threats that are made should be taken as idle boastings of men without power to execute their ferocious desire."

The annexationists are elated over what they believe to be a reprimand to Minister Blonnt by the State Department at Washington on account of his action in the Nordhoff case. It is reported here that Minister Blount has unofficially notified the government of Secretary Gresham's ruling in the case. One member of the provisional Cabinet practically admits that this story is reliable, but President Dole says that he knows nothing about it. The news of the appointment of Judge Sneed as minister to Hawaii has reached here. Mr. Blount is delighted that his successor has been appointed. Hount is making calculations to sail for San Francisco July 19. Claus Spreckels will sail for San Francisco to-
